

The Pueblo Chieftain

Your print and online news source for Southern Colorado

Published: April 13, 2009

Masons, Eastern Star to honor outstanding high school juniors

The Masonic lodges and Eastern Star chapters of Pueblo County Sunday will recognize the outstanding junior girl and boy in each high school in Pueblo City Schools and School District 70.

The program will be at 7 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 126 Broadway Ave. The theme for the program is "Preparation and Possibilities: The Power of Education to Change Live." Chad Chaddick, the worshipful master, will emcee.

Guest speaker will be Joe Garcia, president of Colorado State University-Pueblo. Sarah Mutz and Tony Amaya, outstanding juniors at Central High School last year, will speak on what the recognition meant to them.

Students who will be honored:

- Centennial - Victoria Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Smith; and Robert Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mann.
- East - Brittnie Seip, daughter of Mylinda Seip; and Erik Kochenberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Kochenberger.
- Pueblo West - Kaitlin Neu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Neu; and Jared Bravo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bravo.
- Pueblo County - Olivia Elley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elley; and Alexander Otero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Otero Jr.
- Rye - Laney Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burns; and Chris Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lewis.
- South - Jenna Collette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Collette; and Jace Khosla, son of Dr. and Mrs. Rocky Khosla.
- Central - Bou Amaya, daughter of Kim Amaya; and Steven Starcer, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Starcer.